

THE POCHE DAILY RECORD

The most satisfactory election bet that we have heard of was that made by a Bridgeport lady and gentleman on the eve of the election. If Grant should be elected the young gentleman would win the bet, and if Greeley was elected the lady would win. The result shows that the young man won the bet, and it is stated on the authority of the young lady herself, that she is perfectly willing he should have the prize.

A husband of six months' experience gives it as his opinion that wedding-rings should be re-christened suffer-rings. His wife says that she came to the same conclusion before she had been married two months.

"The verb to love," says a wicked French writer, "is an active verb, which runs until it sinks exhausted into the easy chair of marriage."

"The difficulty of life," says Arthur Helps, "is the same as the difficulty in grammar—to know when to make the exceptions to the rule."

Some genius has been heard to say that pillows, though not belonging to the human species, come under the head of rational beings.

A man out West is so bow-legged that his tail is obliged to take a circular saw in cutting out his pantaloons.

The police are said to be like the rainbow, because they never appear until after the storm.
